T. W. SHEPHERD, Signal Corps.

Mr. E. P. McElray of Hinsted visited the city yesterday.

The lake at Green Mountain Falls will be finished in about a week.

The Methodist church and parsonage will soon be enclosed with a neat fence.

Saulsbury's Troubadours in the "Humming Bird" at the opera house this evening.

Mr. T. B. Sewall, who is connected with the Brunswick hotel at Denver called at the GAZETTE office yesterday.

Rev. H. A. Buchtel, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church of Denver was in the city yesterday and registered at The Antlers.

We call attention to the advertisement of Mr. A. W. Mitchell, the portrait artist, at No. 122 South Tejon street, which appears this morning.

A number of the young men of this city have organized a drum corps which will be at the disposal of both parties during the coming campaign.

There are unclaimed telegrams at the Western Union telegraph office for Walter M. Hatch, Johnny Tracy, T. J. Fisher and Mrs. Mellen.

If you want to enjoy a good laugh attend the performance of the "Humming Bird" by Saulsbury's Troubadours at the opera house this evening.

Grosvenor & Richards, of Boston, Massachusetts, had a very creditable exhibit of surgical appliances and medical supplies at the recent meeting of the state medical society.

The Young Men's Republican club have vacated the Thurlow building on Pike's Peak avenue and have rented the front rooms in the Previtt block, formerly occupied by the chess club.

The four Christian Endeavor societies gave a sociable at the Congregational church last evening which was very largely attended. A musical and literary programme was presented which was very favorably received.

Mr. J. R. Finlay, formerly a student of Colorado college, and a resident of this city, is a member of the Harvard boat crew, and will participate in the annual race between Harvard and Yale. Mr. Finlay entered Harvard college as a freshman last fall.

The state Medical society completed the business before it and adjourned yesterday morning to meet in Denver on the third Tuesday of June next year. The new president of the society, Dr. S. A. Fisk, of Denver, assumed the chair yesterday morning. Prior to the adjournment Dr. Fisk read a paper on "Arsenical Paralysis," which was briefly discussed.

McShane, Clough & Moore, the sewerage contractors, have ordered five car loads of Akron sewer pipe which will be shipped from Akron on the 26th inst. Chairman Skinner, of the sewerage committee and Consulting Engineer Lowrie left for Akron last night to inspect the pipe. Their expenses will be paid by the Akron company, as the company preferred to have the pipe all inspected before it was shipped. The contractors expect to begin work on the system in about ten days.

A meeting of the board of trade committee on education and the arts was held yesterday morning to arrange for the proposed loan art exhibition. The committee decided to secure the high school building if possible, and to keep the exhibition open from July 15th to August 15th, Sundays included. A committee of ladies was appointed to collect the material for the exhibit, which will be accepted or rejected by a committee composed of Messrs. L. R. Ehrich, T. C. Parrish and F. T. Lent. The proceeds of the exhibition will be applied to the "Bellevue Sanitarium fund." Further particulars regarding the exhibition will be published in a few days.

From present appearances the New Orleans excursionists will not visit this city and Manitou in a body, but will return separately. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Ehrich, the president of the board of trade, received the following letter from Mr. George Ady, the general passenger and ticket agent of the Denver, Texas and Fort Worth railroad.

DENVER, COLO., June 19, 1888.

Mr. L. R. Ehrich, Colorado Springs, Colorado:

DEAR SIR—Replying to your favor of the 16th I learn that it is the intention of the New Orleans excursion party not to return in a body and will break up here and "go as you please" on the return. I will do everything I can with them individually to get them to visit Colorado Springs and Manitou, and if any considerable number of them come in a body I will endeavor to find it out beforehand and let you know.

Yours truly,
GEO. ADY.

In speaking of Captain Bogardus who appears in the city on July 5th, with Sells Brothers circus, an exchange says: "The name of Captain Bogardus is a household word in the sporting circles of every land. He is the undisputed greatest living marksman. In May, 1875 he carried away the champion medal of the world and all the honors in a memorable contest. Since then through a succession of twenty-five years he has retained undisputed and victorious possession of the everywhere coveted trophy. He is the only man that [illegible] the world and the Continent. They [illegible] 12 years, while rapidly manoeuvering on roller skates, breaks glass balls with his rifle held in his father's unprotected hands, and supplements this amazing performance by ringing a target bell, at twenty paces, sixteen times in twenty seconds. The most marvelous display of [illegible] for that matter, the other sons are equally proficient."

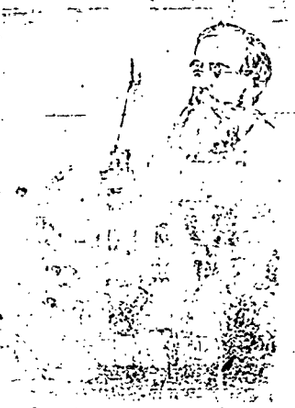
OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

AS TO DENN PIATT AND HIS LIFE WORK.

Judge, Soldier, Journalist and Author.

[illegible]



[illegible]

The Republican convention last night is evidence that Blaine's name will not be forgotten [illegible] It is understood that the only time Blaine's name can come before the convention is after there has deadlock. It cannot be [illegible] there is a deadlock now because the convention has only had an opportunity to cast three ballots. A good many more ballots must be taken to establish the fact that there is a deadlock. Blaine could not accept a nomination, if offered at this time.

Gresham's chances are improving with the delay. The reasons for his nomination are not the sophistries of a smart politician, but such as appeal to the sober judgment of reflective men.—The more one thinks of these reasons the stronger they appear. He weeps well as a candidate. His record has no flaw or weak points. The people are for him, if the politicians are not. The politicians are beginning to feel the pressure for him from the outside.

HUMANE SOCIETY.

The following statement of the objects of the Colorado Humane society has been received from G. H. Thomson, secretary:

The Colorado Humane society is a society organized under the statutes of Colorado, consequently its authority and that of its agents extends throughout the state.

Briefly stated, the objects of the society are the prevention of cruelty to women, children and animals. The work of the society covers all cases of cruelty to all sorts of animals, from the horse to the tortoise, employs every moral agency, social, legislative, personal, and touches points of vital concern, humanity as well as humanity, the transportation of cattle intended for the slaughter, the purity of milk, the time and manner of killing for the market.

The Colorado Humane society is one of the many societies for the prevention of cruelty, that has been organized in the last few years, throughout the country. So late as 1865 there existed no statutory laws in any part of the United States for the protection of animals from cruelty, and at present thirty-two states of the union have enacted laws for the prevention of cruelty.

They are rapidly increasing in numbers and influence, and this society is desirous of forming branches, [illegible] agents in every town and village in our state and for that purpose we are working, making Denver the central office, and we trust and believe that there are some in every town who will give the society not only their moral and financial help but will come boldly to the front and help in active work. Any person of mature age has but to reflect a moment and take one look around him to realize the benefit that such a society is to any state, town or village for the protection of the helpless.

No civilization is complete which does not respect the rights of dumb animals and inculcate principles of justice and kindness in our relation to them.

None but the vicious and morally depraved gainsay it. When the Humane society takes under its protecting shield the defenseless women and children who are so often the victims of passion, anger and brutal violence, and who are afraid to complain and seek protection and help, which society fulfils toward them its office as the agent of that public opinion before which the strongest and most violent must bow, all must admit that its importance as the protector of the helpless the avenger of the wronged and the educator of public sentiment, can hardly be over estimated.

There are few in any community who have not sometimes wished to interfere in cases of cruelty to animals or children but lacking any definite authority have been kept back by an unwillingness to take the responsibility of action alone. The authority the Humane society supplies and the law makes the authority conferred upon its agents express and definite, so that no one need hesitate to act under it. We wish every agent to feel that he has the law and a great and powerful society behind him.

The statutes provide that the fines collected in court successful prosecutions under it are to go to the Humane society. The society will furnish its badge to any person who wishes to become a member of the society and who will pay the annual dues of two dollars.

The society is willing to allow some one who will form a branch society one half of the fines collected in cases successfully prosecuted under it to defray expenses that have been incurred.

Any communication addressed to G. H. Thomson, secretary of the Colorado Humane society 1907 Seventeenth street, Denver, Colo., will receive immediate attention.

It is proposed this afternoon to organize a branch society in the city. [illegible]

DENN PIATT.

Judge, Soldier, Journalist and Author.

[illegible]

Perhaps to literary Europe the present time is one of original, [illegible] Piatt. The public now has [illegible] the place that Piatt fills, [illegible] be last had this twenty years and many a [illegible]

Two years ago, when visiting a friend [illegible] I said to him, [illegible] would be answered, in his usual [illegible] travel. Then he went on to tell that, having received through life more kicks than [illegible] pers, or as he laughingly said, "To put it elegantly, more curses than compliments," any suggestion of writing about [illegible] in other than a severe light, surprised him a strange sensation. He assured me that one kick would hold all the mourners at his funeral, and as that described [illegible] when dead, it would not take much to satisfy public curiosity in regard to him when living.

Aside from this drollery, he is probably aware that he is exactly the kind of person in whom both friends and foes take an exceedingly warm interest, because he is individual and original—a man not at all after the usual pattern. Besides, he has claims on public interest other than those of a journalist and literateur. He has a conspicuous military record, and has held responsible governmental commissions.

He frankly says that the first half of his life was an active pursuit of excitement and the pleasure found in excitement. He dabbled in literature, in a boy kind of way, and read cart loads of books. He studied law, and shortly after his admission to the bar in Cincinnati was appointed to a vacancy on the bench. At this time he was so young that, being in Washington, a friend, who introduced him to Nathaniel Hawthorne, as Judge Piatt, added, "We have a most old-wise, Mr. Hawthorne, of putting our young men on the bench to study law."

This, though intended as a compliment, embarrassed the youthful judge so much that he cleared the composition of the distinguished novelist, whose subsequent and abnormally shy nature caused him so much suffering that he knew how to sympathize with another on an occasion like this. Taking Piatt aside, he discoursed [illegible] to him for a couple of hours, in order to mitigate his distress and put him entirely at his ease. This was the beginning of a strong friendship between the two, which lasted to the end of Hawthorne's life.

From the bench Denn Piatt passed to the place of secretary of legation, under Hon. John T. Mason, United States minister at Paris. The minister was stricken down with apoplexy and Piatt became chargé d'affaires, and held that position for nearly a year. He [illegible] of the Huguenots and [illegible] blood secreted itself at the French capital. He made the legation headquarters for the Red Republicans [illegible] became popular with that class and very unpopular among the robed Americans [illegible] residing at Paris. Pierre Soule, Louis Blanc and many more of that order were his fast friends.

He resigned and came home. When the war broke out he thought to seek a good or ample by volunteering as a private. He was elected captain, and at night studied over the drill which he gave next day.

Gen. Schenck offered him choice of positions on his staff, and he served under that gallant soldier and gentleman until near the close of the war. He was in the first and second battles of Bull Run, in Cross Keys and Moffatsville. Secretary Stanton placed on the court that investigated the loss of Harper's Ferry, and he wrote the finding of the court. He was then made judge advocate of the commission that investigated Gen. Bull. As chief of staff to Gen. Schenck, he freed the slaves in Maryland much to the chagrin of Maryland and the wrath of President Lincoln. [illegible] his military career [illegible] and he resigned [illegible] the bar.

Piatt was only [illegible] married the eldest daughter of Truman Smith, [illegible] banker of Cincinnati, [illegible] not in the least [illegible] this event he arrested the [illegible] wishes of the young lady's parents. He himself tells of an occasion when [illegible] said to some one in his [illegible] "See what a smart son-in-law I [illegible] didn't want him, but I've got him."

Miss Kirby was a woman of [illegible] died a few years after her marriage [illegible] a volume of letters entitled "[illegible] Abroad," which ran through [illegible] After her death Mr. Piatt married [illegible] who had been his friend [illegible] married life and to whom he [illegible] used to say [illegible] was when they were in New York [illegible] to put her under medical [illegible] was found [illegible]

L. W. SHUMAWAY, Signal Service Observer.

Florissant expects to celebrate the glorious Fourth in an elaborate manner.

A man was fined for fighting by the police magistrate yesterday morning.

An effort is being made to raise funds to pay the Firemen's band for two open air concerts in the parks every week.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union Telegraph office for Mrs. E. B. Wright and Miss M. V. Donaghue.

The next attraction at the opera house will be Dockstader's Minstrels, who will appear here about the middle of July.

Assistant Surgeon [illegible] of the army, has opened headquarters in rooms 11 and 12 of the Park block.

Mr. O. S. Loomis of Fountain was in the city yesterday. He has almost recovered from the effect of his injuries received on the day of the explosion.

Mr. E. B. Curtis will soon open the Seven Lakes hotel for travel to the Peak. He will endeavor to furnish the best of accommodations at reasonable rates.

Mr. J. B. Hamilton, the portrait artist, has returned to the city, and will organize a class. Further particulars can be learned from our business locals this morning.

The United Presbyterians will hold services in the city hall to-morrow. Sabbath school at 9.45 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Morning subject, "Missions."

Carlile, Price & McGavock have completed five miles of their grading contract on the Rock Island east of the city. They expect to be entirely through by August 1st.

The alterations on the new bank building on the southwest corner of Tejon street and Pike's Peak avenue are now well under way. At present the workmen are constructing the vault in the cellar.

Salisbury's Troubadours appeared at the opera house last evening to an audience which completely filled the building and testified its appreciation of the performance by frequent and hearty applause.

The bids for the new Congregational church were opened yesterday afternoon by the building committee. The following is the amount of the bids: Speery & Tuckerman, $28,525; S. E. Sessions, $26,373; E. Brusso, $25,175; Garrison & Heath, $24,724; Joseph Dozier, $21,761.10.

Carlile, Price & McGavock are now working 150 men, mostly Dagos, on the P., E. & R. R. R. road. About eight miles of the road has been fully completed, and a large force of laborers are in camp at timber line. It is expected that the heaviest work on the road will be encountered between timber line and the summit of the Peak.

Walker's branch stable, at the mouth of Bear Creek canon, is now prepared to furnish horses for the trip to the peak, which can be made by the Bear creek trail easier and cheaper than ever before. Mr. A. L. Bronson, at No. 10 North Tejon street, will furnish any information regarding the trip by this route which may be desired.

Mr. E. P. Moon, of Husted, has furnished us with the following weather record for the week ending June 20th: Highest temperature, 69° on the 15th; lowest temperature, 47° on the 14th; highest daily mean temperature, 71° on the 14th and 15; lowest daily mean temperature 61.5° on the 19th; weekly mean temperature 64.3°. Prevailing direction of the wind, south. Clearest days 14th and 20th. Cloudiest days 16th and 18th.

Most of the El Paso county sheepmen have finished shearing, and some of them are endeavoring to dispose of their clips. There are but few buyers in the market and the average price offered is about 12 cents. This is the lowest price ever offered for wool in this county. Quite a number of last year's clips remain unsold. This year's clip, it is stated, is an exceptionally fine one, the staple being strong and the wool quite clean.

Estimates for the Colorado City school house were received by the school board at the office of the architect, Frank T. Lent, yesterday afternoon. For the building, without fences, walks and out houses, and without steam heating, for which there were separate bids, the contractors and their figures were as follows:

Boerig Brothers	$14,000
Garrison & Heath	12,739
E. Brusso	13,475
W. H. Roby	12,485
O. Dozier	14,885
A. H. Harrison	15,000
Wright & West	15,490

The Cricket and Tennis club has a membership of about fifty already. The new tennis courts at the Athletic grounds will be ready for the players within a few days. William Iles is at work on the cricket grounds and expects to have it ready for play by the latter part of next week. The cricket outfit of bats, balls, etc., will be here by that time. Anyone interested in these games is invited to join, and may apply to Arthur Peeling or J. Arthur Connell.

The new brick addition to the Alamo hotel, which was built by Mr. E. Brusso is now entirely completed and will soon be ready for the occupancy of guests. With its new facilities the Alamo will be more than ever prepared to furnish the best of accommodations. The hotel [illegible] supplied with [illegible] and warm baths. The new rooms will be furnished with new beds, mattresses, carpets purchased of Goddings Bros. & Wilbur, and will be furnished throughout with furniture from Fair Day Bros. furniture emporium. Mr. [illegible] has charge of the hotel. The proprietor has enlarged the dining room and added to the kitchen. He also intends to build a 30x40 sample room north of the hotel at a very early date. During the past week Mr. Sellers secured the services of a first class cook who has been employed at Copeland's restaurant, Boston, for the past twenty-eight years. [illegible]

SOMETHING NEW.

Having just received one of the largest consignments of WALL PAPER that was ever brought to El Paso county, at one time, and in order to dispose of it quick and to give our patrons a share of the profits, we have concluded to give three grand prizes that shall be a benefit to every property holder in the county. To every purchaser of six double rolls of Paper and over and border for the same amount of paper, we shall give a chance on a GRAND DRAWING for the paper, consisting of three parlors in three different styles.

THE FIRST PRIZE—Will be a parlor set of paper and walls with the very best hand made Embossed Paper, and one of the lucky party to select the paper. The wood work to be painted or stained to match the paper.

SECOND PRIZE—Is a ceiling and side walls paper with Colored Bronze Paper, wood work painted or stained to match.

THIRD PRIZE—Is a frieze and wall paper, with a flat paper, that is, a paper without gilt, wood work painted or stained to match.

The method of drawing will be by [illegible] which will be held on the 4th day of July, 1888. [illegible] the winner of the first prize. The second and third [illegible] the winners.

In addition to our large stock of DRESS GOODS, we have added a large and well assorted stock of READY-MADE DRESSES, both in Wool and Cotton Fabrics.

GIDDINGS BROS. & WILBUR

No. 21 S. Tejon St.

"You can fool some of the people all the time, you can fool all of the people some of the time, but you can not fool all the people all the time."

Merchants who publish silly advertisements ponder on this profitably.

Is it better to deal with Clothiers who claim everything and show very little, or to patronize a house that professes only what it can perform?

We have a great stock of things that men and boys wear. Our Clothing is carefully selected and well made. Choose your apparel HERE, because we can fit you, please you and after you once learn the merits of our goods we believe you will continue to use them.
